

THE BLAIR ESTATE

LOCATIONS

Dating back to 1105, Blair castle is the ultimate location for your film location, product launch, or fashion shoot. The original 12th Century Guard room was used as a location for filming the Television show “Taggart”; the gardens and grounds have featured as a glamorous backdrop to fashion shoots, including a recent shoot entitled “My Fair Lady”. Exclusive product launch events are efficiently hosted at Blair castle, previous clients include Lexus luxury cars and Glitterati bridal wear.

The castle is well suited as a backdrop to Scottish romance and history films, as the original features remain in the castle and surrounding grounds. The contents of Blair reflect the romance and evolution of Scotland’s history over the past 900 years. The location is ideal, both in historical integrity and in convenience. Situated in South West Scotland, midway between Glasgow and Glasgow Prestwick airports, and easily accessible by road, Blair Castle and Estate is a convenient location for mainstream media, advertising and product launches, or niche film projects. Our dedicated staff can cater for your every need and all amenities, from car parking to helicopter landing are available.

Come and experience the power of this exclusive location in Scotland for your next event, product launch or film shoot!
